NEWS OF ALL BRANCHES OF SPORT

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGRENBEHIND THE
CATCHERCarl Lothrop, a Well Known Fan, Presents a Solution of the Trouble Between the National Commission and the Baseball Authors.

By Bozeman Bulger.

THE championship fight between the authors and the National Commission is scheduled one day ahead of the less important world's series, and it lives up to expectations we may not have the latter at all. Now, what do you know about that? The N. C. says unless the writers drop their pens and go back to the diamond that they won't be allowed to play baseball, which is to say "there won't be no series." As fast as their legs will carry them the members of the Players' Fraternity are coming to the rescue, and "Fight to the last ditch," Dave Pultz says, will be their motto. It always did sound good. Fine mixup on the eve of the classic event of our national sport!

NOW, HERE IS A REAL NOTION.

All this talk, threats and counter threats is a lot of rot. There is just one way out of it, and Carl Lothrop, a well known fan, has dug up the real idea. According to Carl, the one chance of ending it all and getting things in shape for the routers to see some good ball games lies with the editors of the papers. "If they will only compel the baseball authors to write their own stuff," says Mr. Lothrop, "and accept it in no other form, the trouble will end right then and there."

BUT COMMON SENSE DOESN'T COUNT NOWADAYS.

At the same time the officers of the Players' Fraternity say that the National Commission is bluffing and will not attempt to carry out its threat. "If writing for the papers is injurious to the game," declares Dave Pultz, the President, "the commission knew it a long time ago and should have had a clause preventing it written into the contracts of the players before they signed them." And that sounds like pretty good, old-fashioned horse sense.

COIN COMES IN JUST THE SAME.

Despite all wrangling the preparation for the sale of tickets goes merrily on, and John Foster, Secretary of the Giants, says this will be the best attended of all the past annual events. Already the New York club has returned more than $20,000 sent in by misguided fans under the impression that tickets could be secured by mail. Almost that much has been returned at Philadelphia. Mr. Foster says it seems impossible to make the public understand that no reserved seats will be put on sale until next Monday at the Polo Grounds.

PASSING THE BUCK RIGHT BACK TO N. C.

The report that the New York club would conduct the sale, it appears, is erroneous. It will be done, as was done last year, by the National Commission. The New York club has merely reserved the right to look after the press arrangements and the holders of boxes by the season. Those who have had boxes all year, naturally, will have the first call on them for the big games.

AND THE DOUBLE HEADERS GO ON FOREVER.

In the mean time the Yanks, don't forget that, are up at the Polo Grounds double header every afternoon, and the show is well worth the money. They last two games of the double header yesterday, but that is not nearly as important as that they showed us a little shortstop by the name of Boone who is a bird. Coming fresh from Texas, this young fellow made the gang all up and take notice by his work in fielding. At the bat he didn't do anything to make Ty Cobb jealous, but nobody else did, for that matter. Money of the Red Sox pitched airtight ball until darkness came to the rescue of our cellar champs.

WE SHOULD WORRY ABOUT THAT.

Another show that served to entertain, by telegraphic report, many of the world's series visitors to our city was the final attack of the fledgling Giants on the Braves. McGraw's youngsters were shut out cleanly, while Fromme and Schupp took a considerable pounding from the Boston batters.

JUST ONE CHEER FOR AULD LANG SYNE.

The Yanks make their last appearance of the season this afternoon, and, as usual, will present us with a double header. They spend the week-end down at Philadelphia giving the young Athletics some practice so that Connie Mack can get a line on them for next spring. The little trip out of the cellar, it appears, was just to give our boys a breath of fresh air. Having seen that they got that, the Red Sox kicked them right back again and clamped down the door. The Browns took seventh place without having to play.

TOO BAD THAT CHARLEY CAN'T JOIN US.

Most of the old Giants were strolling around town yesterday taking things easy, but they will all be in there to-morrow trying to grab that remnant of the famous protested game from the Phillies. It will be played off at 1 o'clock as a curtain raiser to the regular double header. It has just been discovered, by the way, that Charley Doan can have no say as to playing out that inning. He was suspended when the game ended in Philadelphia, and, according to the ruling, will have to get back in the little doghouse while the fun is going on.

NO COUNTING ON A NEW YORK CROWD.

Quite a lot of excitement was caused at the Polo Grounds yesterday by the appearance of a young woman in blue who sat in a box near the Boston bench and showed the old regulars some new stuff in the way of rooting. Just why a lone woman in blue could cause enough curiosity for hundreds of men and women to follow her across the field after the game was over is difficult to understand. Still, after sitting through that double header a person could be excused for most anything.

IS CERTAINLY ENTITLED TO TWO TICKETS, ANYWAY.

Jim Thayer, owner of the Braves, is in town trying to get some seats for the big game and tickled to death over the showing of his club under the management of Stallings. Jim pulled a new one in baseball when he gave up thousands of dollars and started the series in Boston because his team was so crippled that it could not give the fans their money's worth. Yes, and he made it good with his players.

Walker Hurls
Like Real Star

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—That the flashy Dodgers got an even break in yesterday's bargain bill was due to the masterly hurling of Walker in the final affair, which Brooklyn won by 3 to 1 after letting the first contest slide away by 10 to 9 after they had secured a running start by scoring nine times at the plate in the opening inning.

There should have been a cleanup on the day for Dahlen and his crew, for with a 3 to 9 lead to work on, Pat Ragan should have come in a winner under blankets. But he did just the opposite. He gave a "don't care" exhibition of pitching which, with two glaring errors by Collins and Smith in the eighth, enabled the Philadelphia team to, and then they won although Ragan on a double and single, although Ragan was seemingly pitching with one object, to get the game over as quickly as possible, regardless of the outcome.

NATIONAL COMMISSION
REFUSES GUY'S CLAIM.

The National Baseball Commission has refused the claim of Richard L. Guy against the Washington club for $500. Guy claimed that amount for recommending player Shaw to Washington, with the understanding that it should be paid when Shaw made good. The commission holds that the claim is not enforceable until the player makes good, and the Washington club notified the commission that it would be ready to settle when Shaw demonstrates his ability to hold his own in major league play.

Phil Cross May
Box Kid Carter

(Special to The Evening World.)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—To revive the lightweight division, so sadly neglected, promoter McCarty is figuring on Phil Cross of New York and Mexican Kid Carter for a Vernon fight in December. These two were matched before, but it fell through when Bull Young was killed. McCarty is also figuring on matching the winner of the Dundee-Asquith lightweight battle Oct. 14, with Champion Ritchie for Thanksgiving, unless Joe Rivers meantime shows he can come back, in which case the Turkey Day fight may be Ritchie and Rivers.

Pittsburgh Led Prelight Golfers.
More than eighty members of the National Eight Traffic Golf Association competed at the Essex County Country Club yesterday in their third and final tournament of the season. The members qualified according to their gross scores in three sixteen for match play to-day and to-morrow. Returning a score of 41-44-45, E. B. Fishburn of Roanoke, Va., led the field, a stroke better than C. A. McCormack of New Brunswick, who handed in 42-45-46.

WHY NOT FIGHTERS, TOO? (Star Players Will Report the Series) By VIC

SPORT BRIEFS.

De Oro Will Have to Be at His Beat to Successfully Defend
His World's Pocket Billiards
Title Against Bennie Allen in Series Which Starts To-Night.

Alfredo De Oro, the Cuban pocket billiard champion, will defend his world's title in a series of three matches against Benjamin Allen of Kansas City, Mo., starting to-night. Both De Oro and his challenger for the championship have been training hard for their matches. Allen is confident of victory, and if his showing in practice matches are to be taken as a criterion, it is safe to predict he will force the Cuban title holder to play at his best in order to retain his laurels.

Pronounced favorites in the three national and the Columbus Grand circuit programs were winners, but the Columbus stake for 200 trotters did not go to the favorite, Robert Milroy. Cheney, the Texas mare, won after the first heat had been taken by the four-year-old mare Ithymell. Each heat was under 2:05 and the fastest was in 2:04. Director L. and Frank Bogush Jr. did not meet, though they were both eligible for the Board of Trade Stakes, which the East View pacer won handily in straight heats. His best time, 2:02, was within a quarter of a second of his record. Frank Bogush Jr. started in the Arch City Stakes. In the final heat Driver Murphy did not slow Frank Bogush down near the finish, and the pacer took a new mark, 2:02.

Fifty candidates, one-half of whom are freshmen, started training under Coach George Orton for the variety and freshman cross-country teams at the University of Pennsylvania. Included among the variety men were McCurdy, the intercollegiate two-mile champion; Ted Meredith, the Olympic champion; Mardell, the star miler; Captain Langner and Humphreys, the star freshman two-mile runner of last year.

In furtherance of a campaign to boom athletics at Columbia a monster undergraduate mass meeting is to be held in University Hall to-night, at which President Nicholas Murray Butler, Deane Dotson and Keppel and various alumni who have won fame in Columbia's athletic history will be the speakers. The meeting will be held with a double purpose: first, to get students interested in athletics and to encourage them to come out for the various teams; and second, to interest them in the spirit of the athletic association.

The so-called English stroke will be continued by the Yale crew during the next year, and W. Averall Harriman will again serve as head coach, assisted by J. O. Rodgers. Harriman has returned to college to complete his course.

Announcement of the plans for the fall and winter practice are expected in a few days when the crew men are called out.

Ten high school teams have entered the round robin tournament for the soccer championship of the Public Schools Athletic League, according to the schedule which was announced yesterday. All the schools have reported that many of last year's men are again available, which should go to make the competition for the title the keener. The opening games will be played on Saturday.

Columbia has officially made soccer football a part of the regular training in gymnasium work, which is required of all members of the freshman and sophomore classes. The first work was begun yesterday, when the gymnasium classes met on South Field. At least 600 students will be required to play the game twice a week, and from this vast number the university athletic authorities hope to be able to select a variety squad which will be of championship calibre.

The Brooklyn Pleasure Drivers' Association will hold its first matinee of the fall meeting on the Brooklyn Speedway track this afternoon. Alfred E. Peck's Little Direct, Nat Ward's Jack Law, and Jack Roselle's Kentucky Belle will meet in a special race, and some spirited heats will be seen. The usual card of six races will also be contested.

Many local fans have hesitated about backing the Giants in the coming World's Series with the Athletics because of doubt as to whether Larry Doyle, second baseman, Fred Snodgrass, center fielder, and Red Murray, right fielder, would play. It has been rumored that there was a possibility that not one of these three stars would be in the lineup when the opening game started at the Polo Grounds next Tuesday. Nobody who saw the way these three men performed in practice at the P. G. yesterday would have any misgivings about them playing. They all carried about the diamond like lambskins. Larry threw the ball as though his shoulder was never injured, while Snodgrass and Red displayed any traces of lame legs. All the regulars indulged in hard practice and Manager McGraw seemed to be well pleased with the form they showed.

Belmont Turns Down
$200,000 For Tracery.

August Belmont has refused $200,000 amount ever offered for an American bred and raised thoroughbred. It was made by cable by W. Allison of England. Allison is a breeder and a commission agent. He probably was acting in behalf of one of the wealthy patrons of the English turf. Allison asked to have the offer remain open until the end of the year. The only condition of the tender was that Tracery remain unbeaten until the end of the racing season.

Tracery is by Rockland-Toplary. He is a four-year-old bay colt. He was foaled at Mr. Belmont's Nursery Stud at Woodmere.

Inwood Golfers Beat Woodmere.

The team of the Inwood Country Club defeated the forces of the Woodmere Country Club in a two links team match by 11 points to 6. The early round was played at Inwood and the latter contest at Woodmere.
